SERVICE RECORD

OF THE

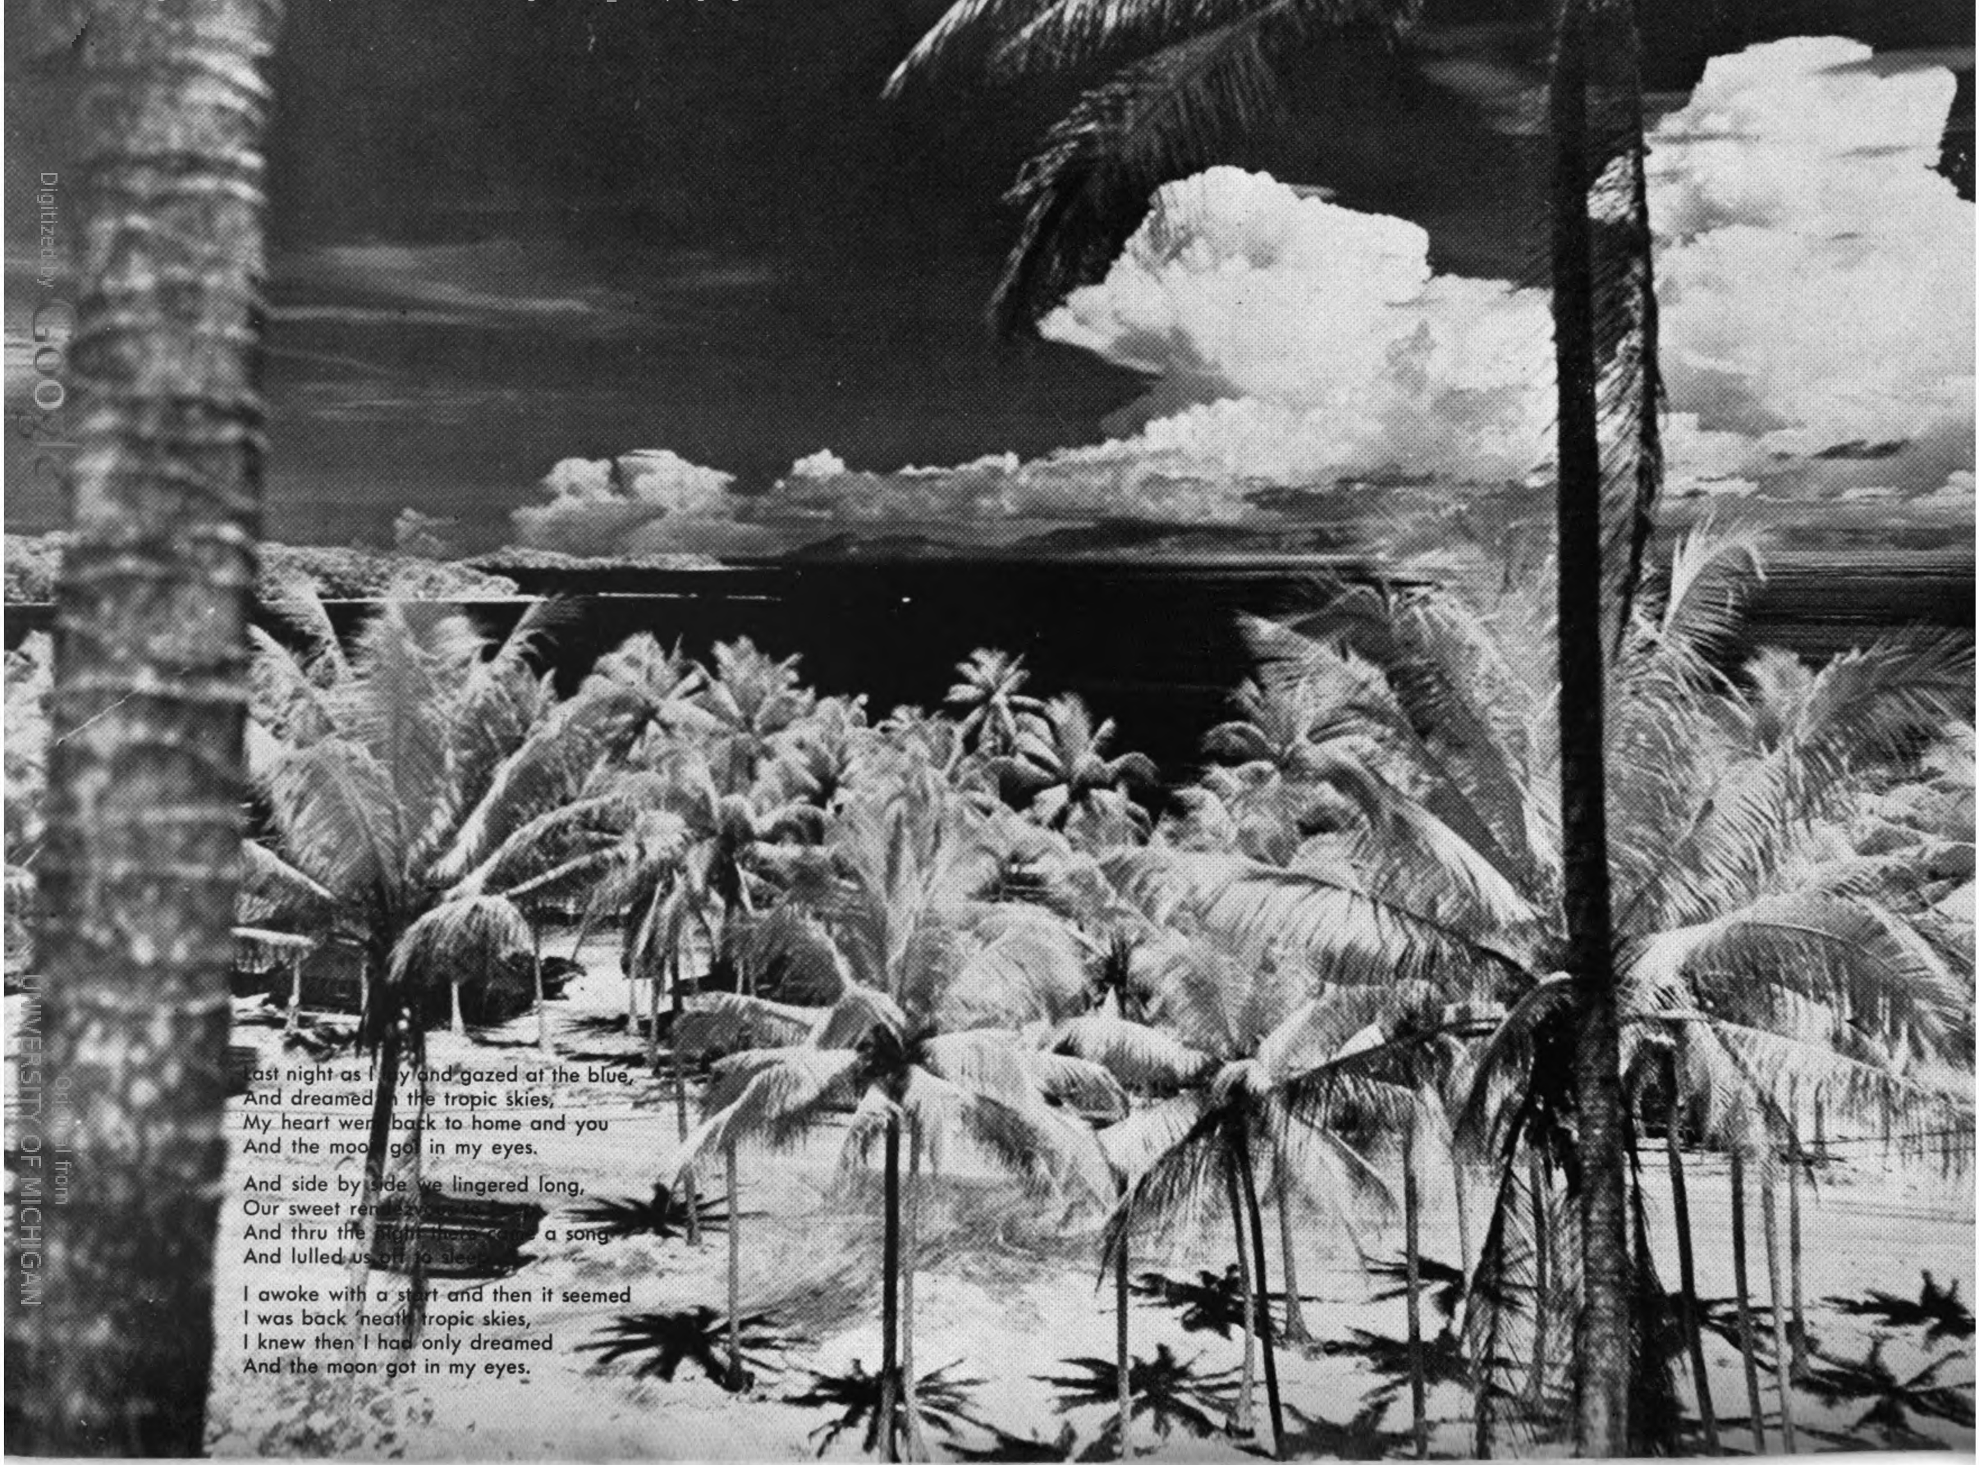
145TH NAVAL CONSTRUCTION BATTALION

1943-1944-1945

UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

The silent mists come sweeping
In from the restless sea,
And while the island's sleeping
They bring you near to me.

Incessant pounding of the surging foam
As it breaks on the reefs below,
Carries me back to my distant home
And your arms that I used to know.

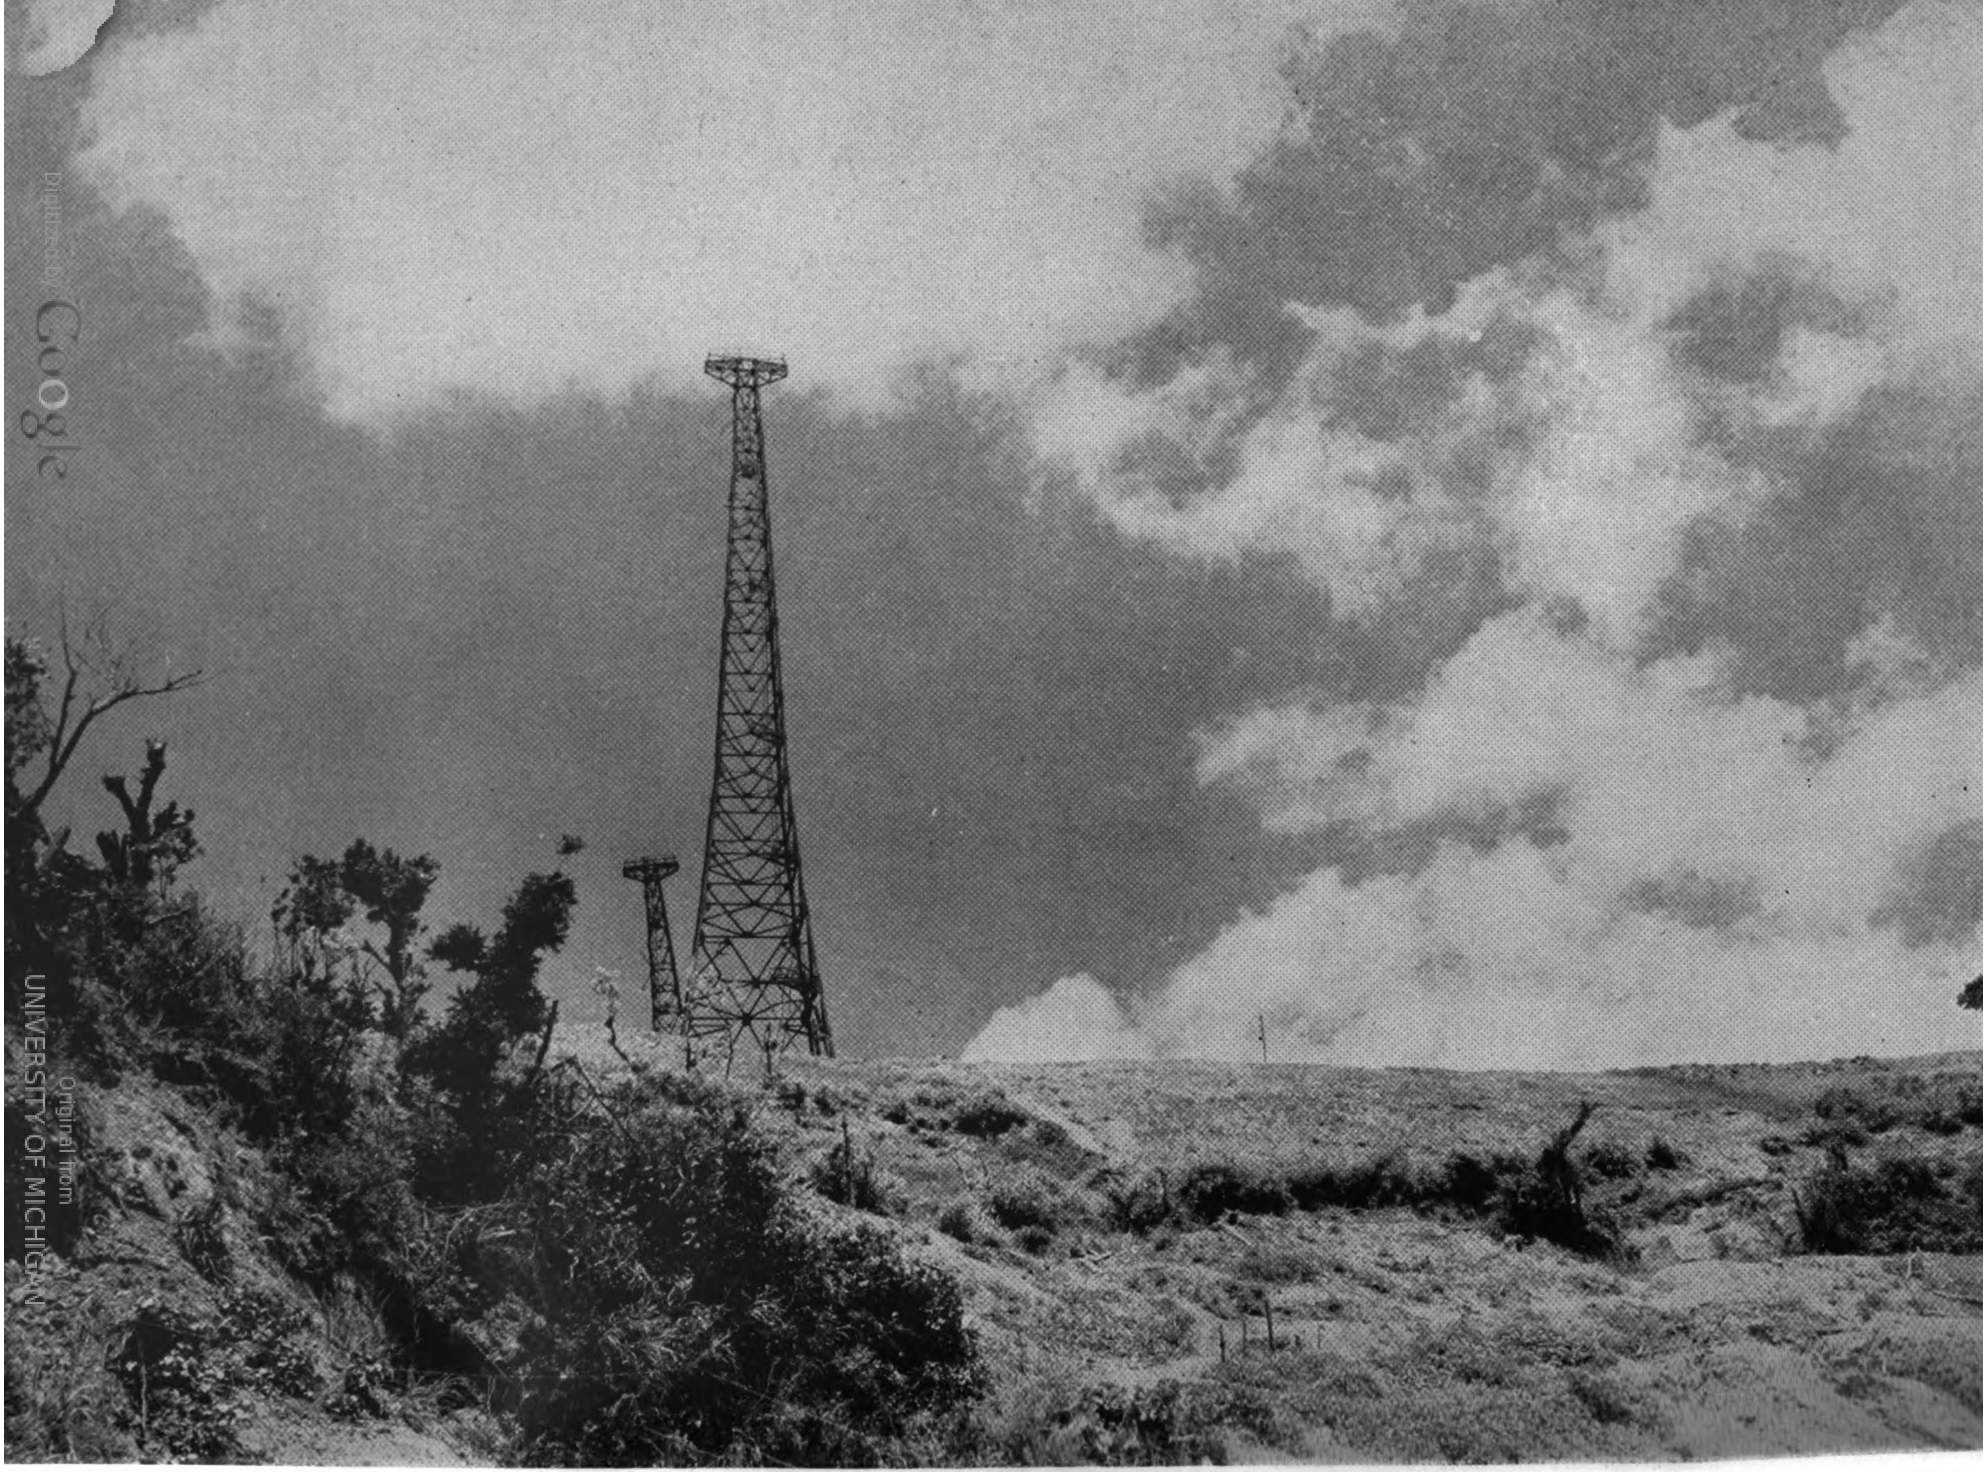


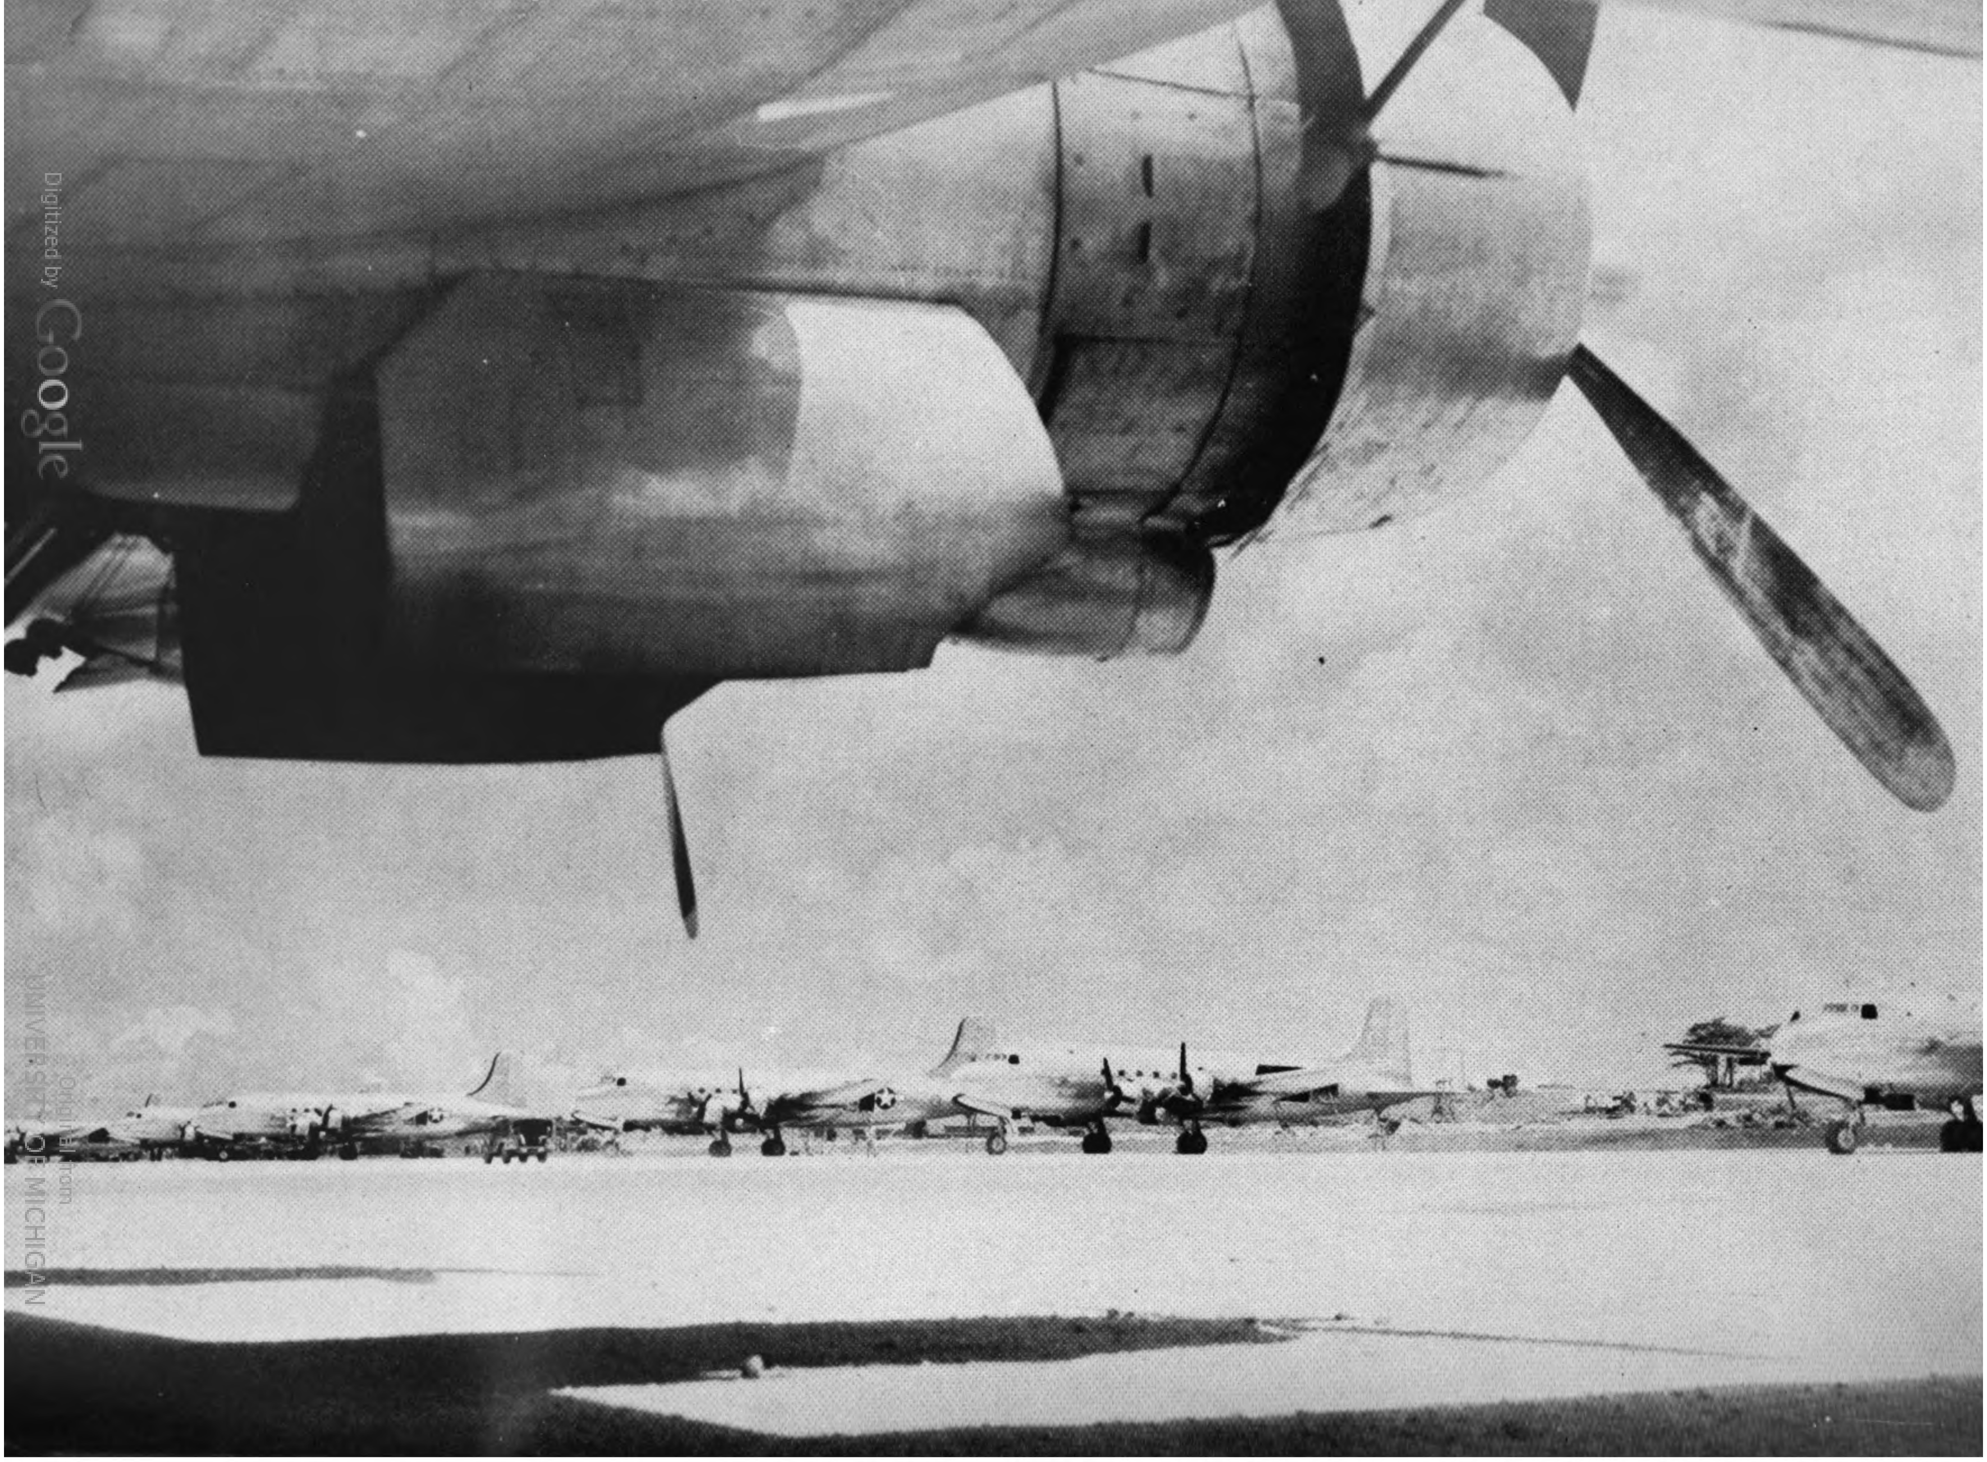
Last night as I lay and gazed at the blue,
And dreamed in the tropic skies,
My heart went back to home and you
And the moon got in my eyes.

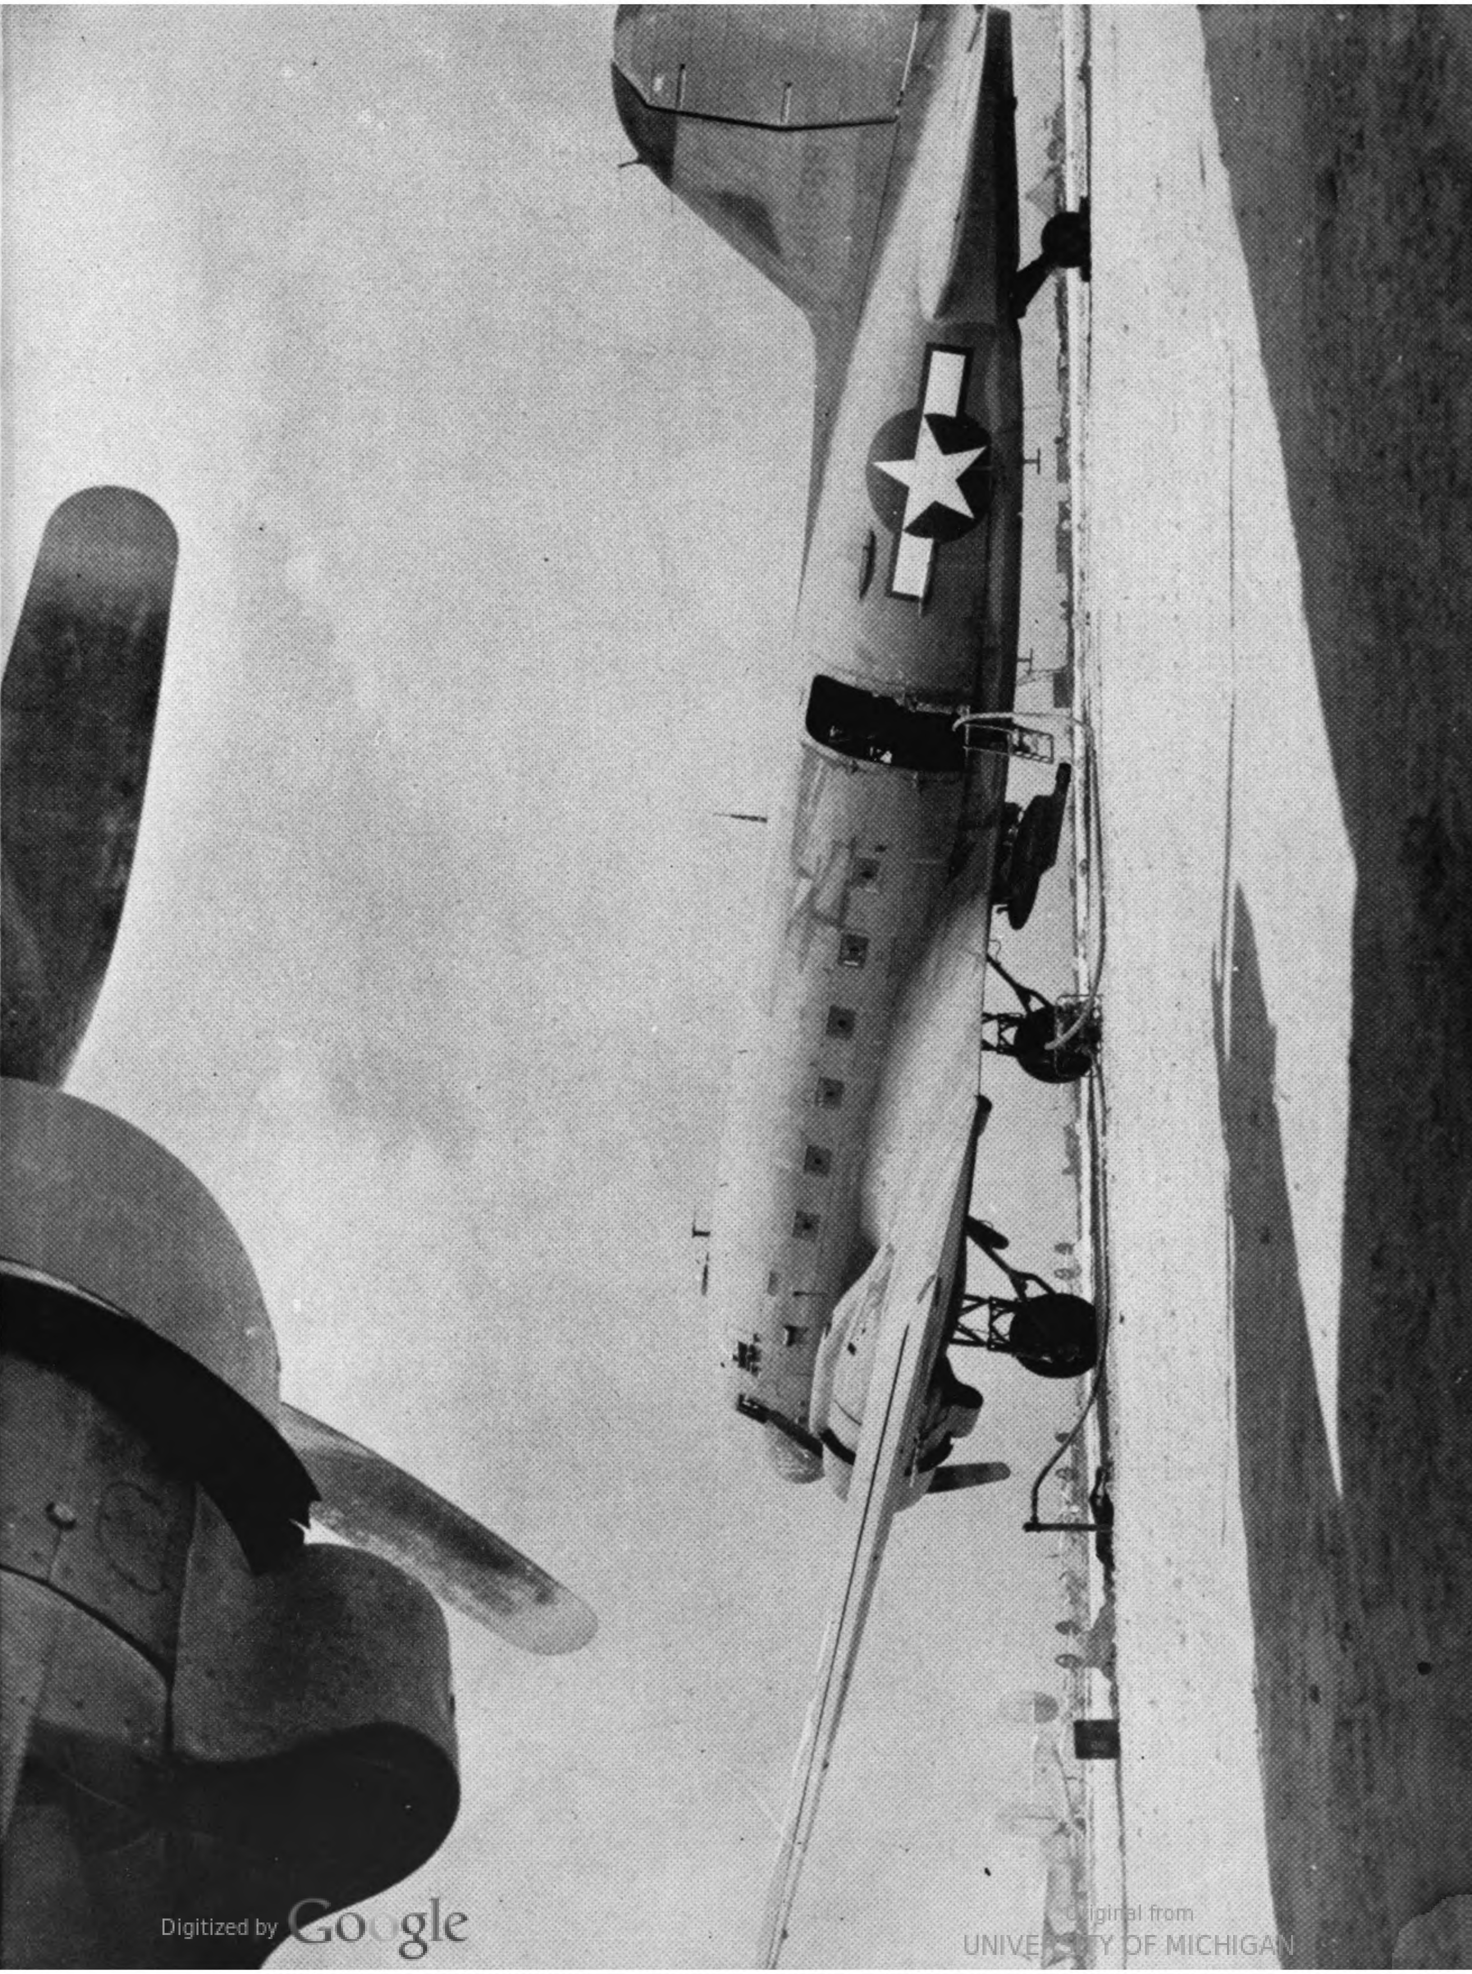
And side by side we lingered long,
Our sweet rendezvous to keep,
And thru the night there came a song
And lulled us off to sleep.

I awoke with a start and then it seemed
I was back 'neath tropic skies,
I knew then I had only dreamed
And the moon got in my eyes.

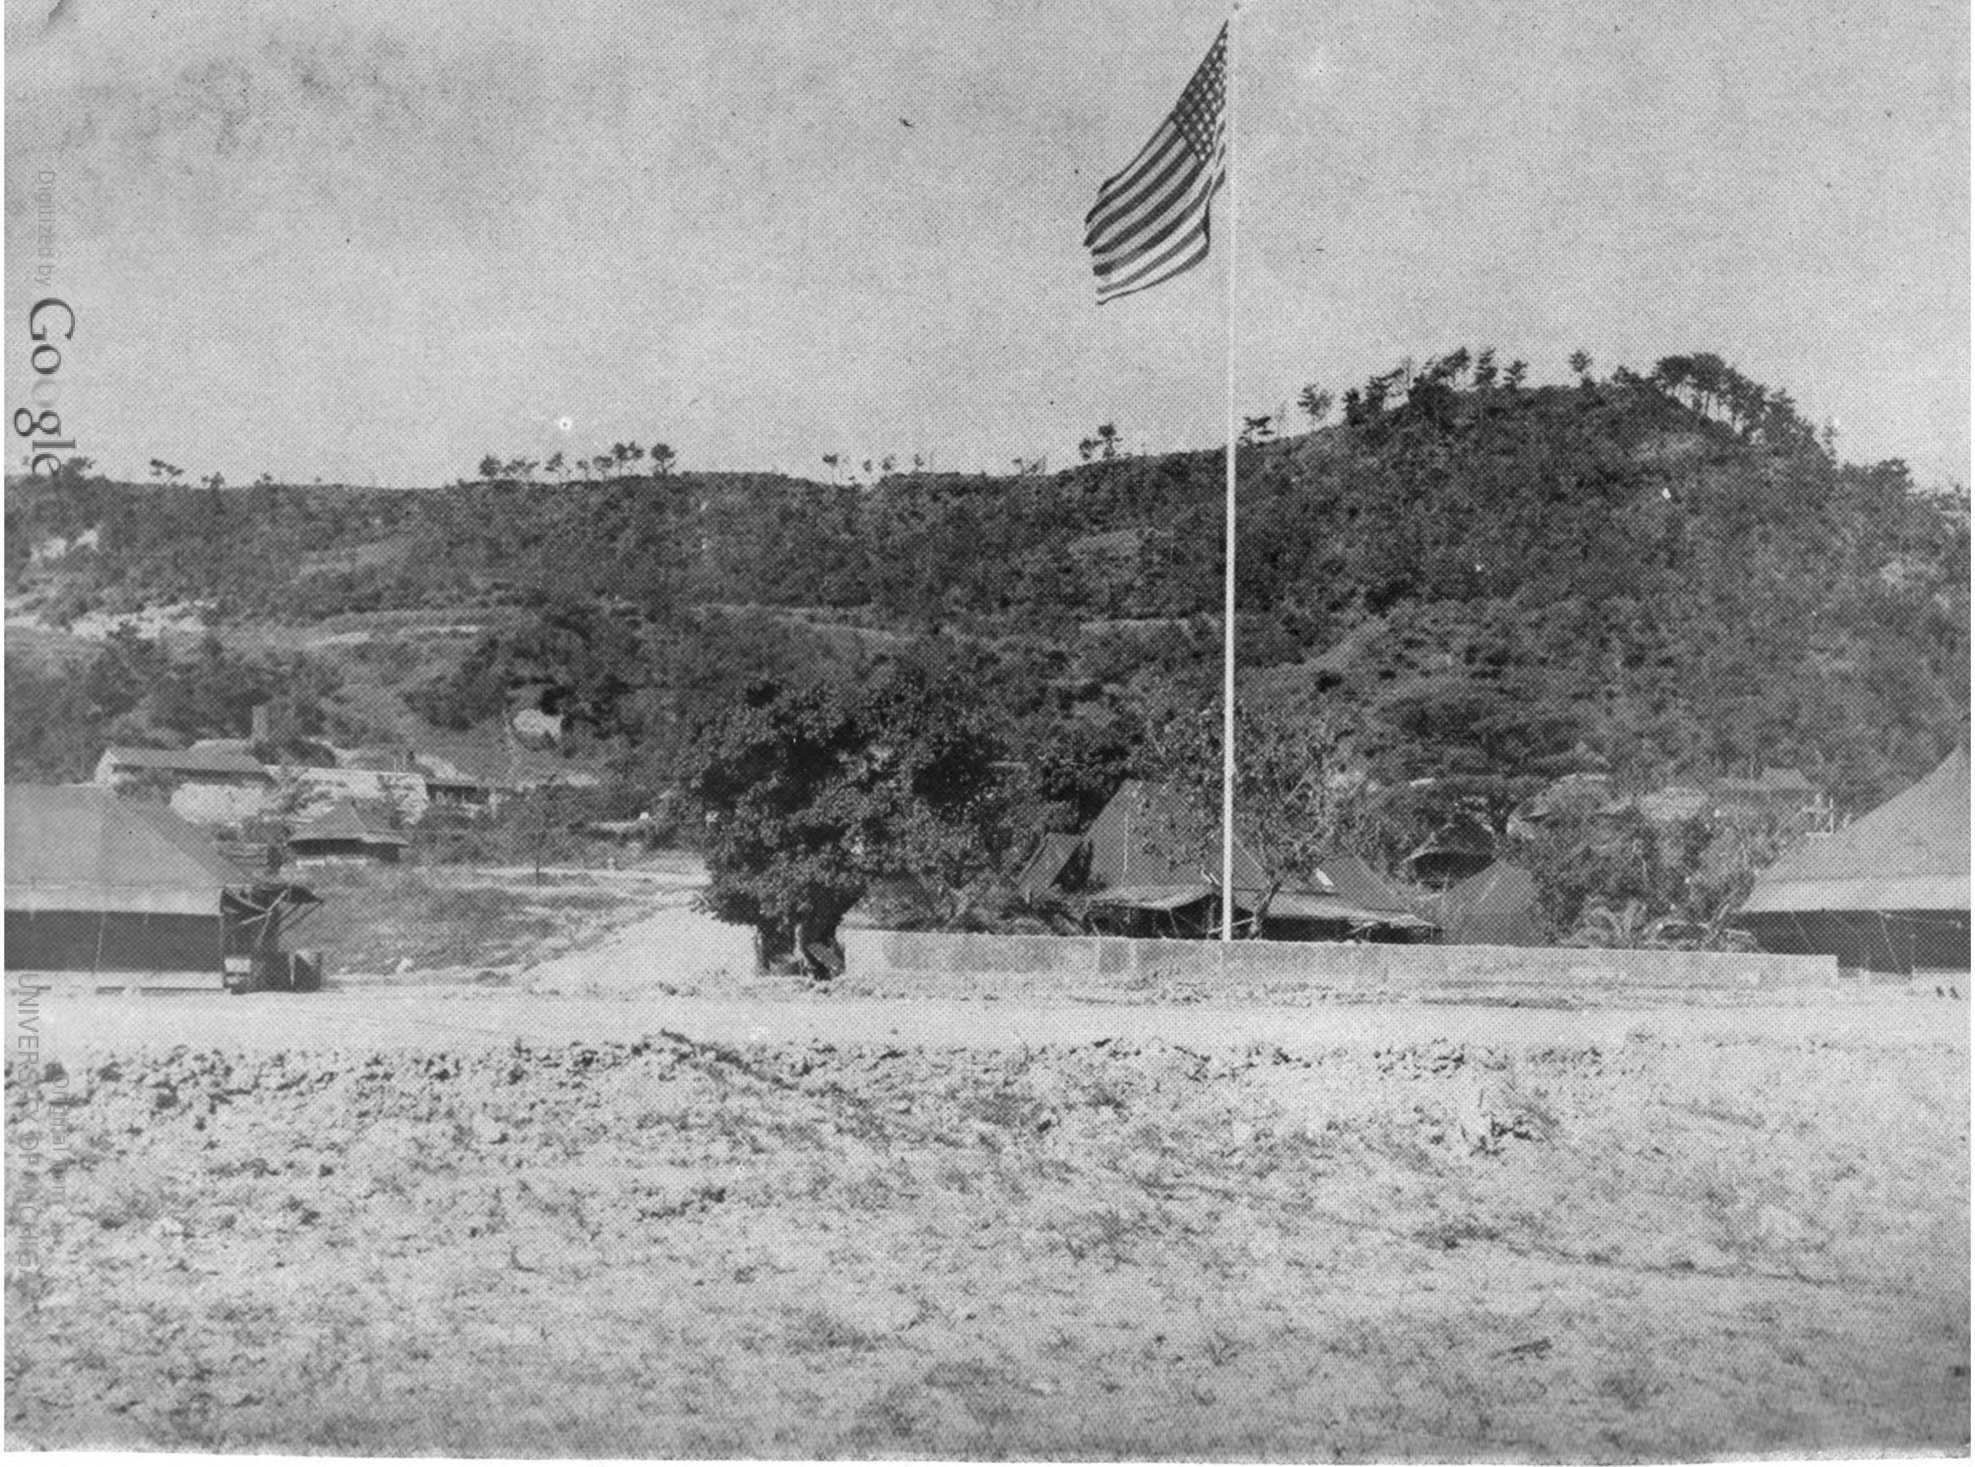
OKINAWA

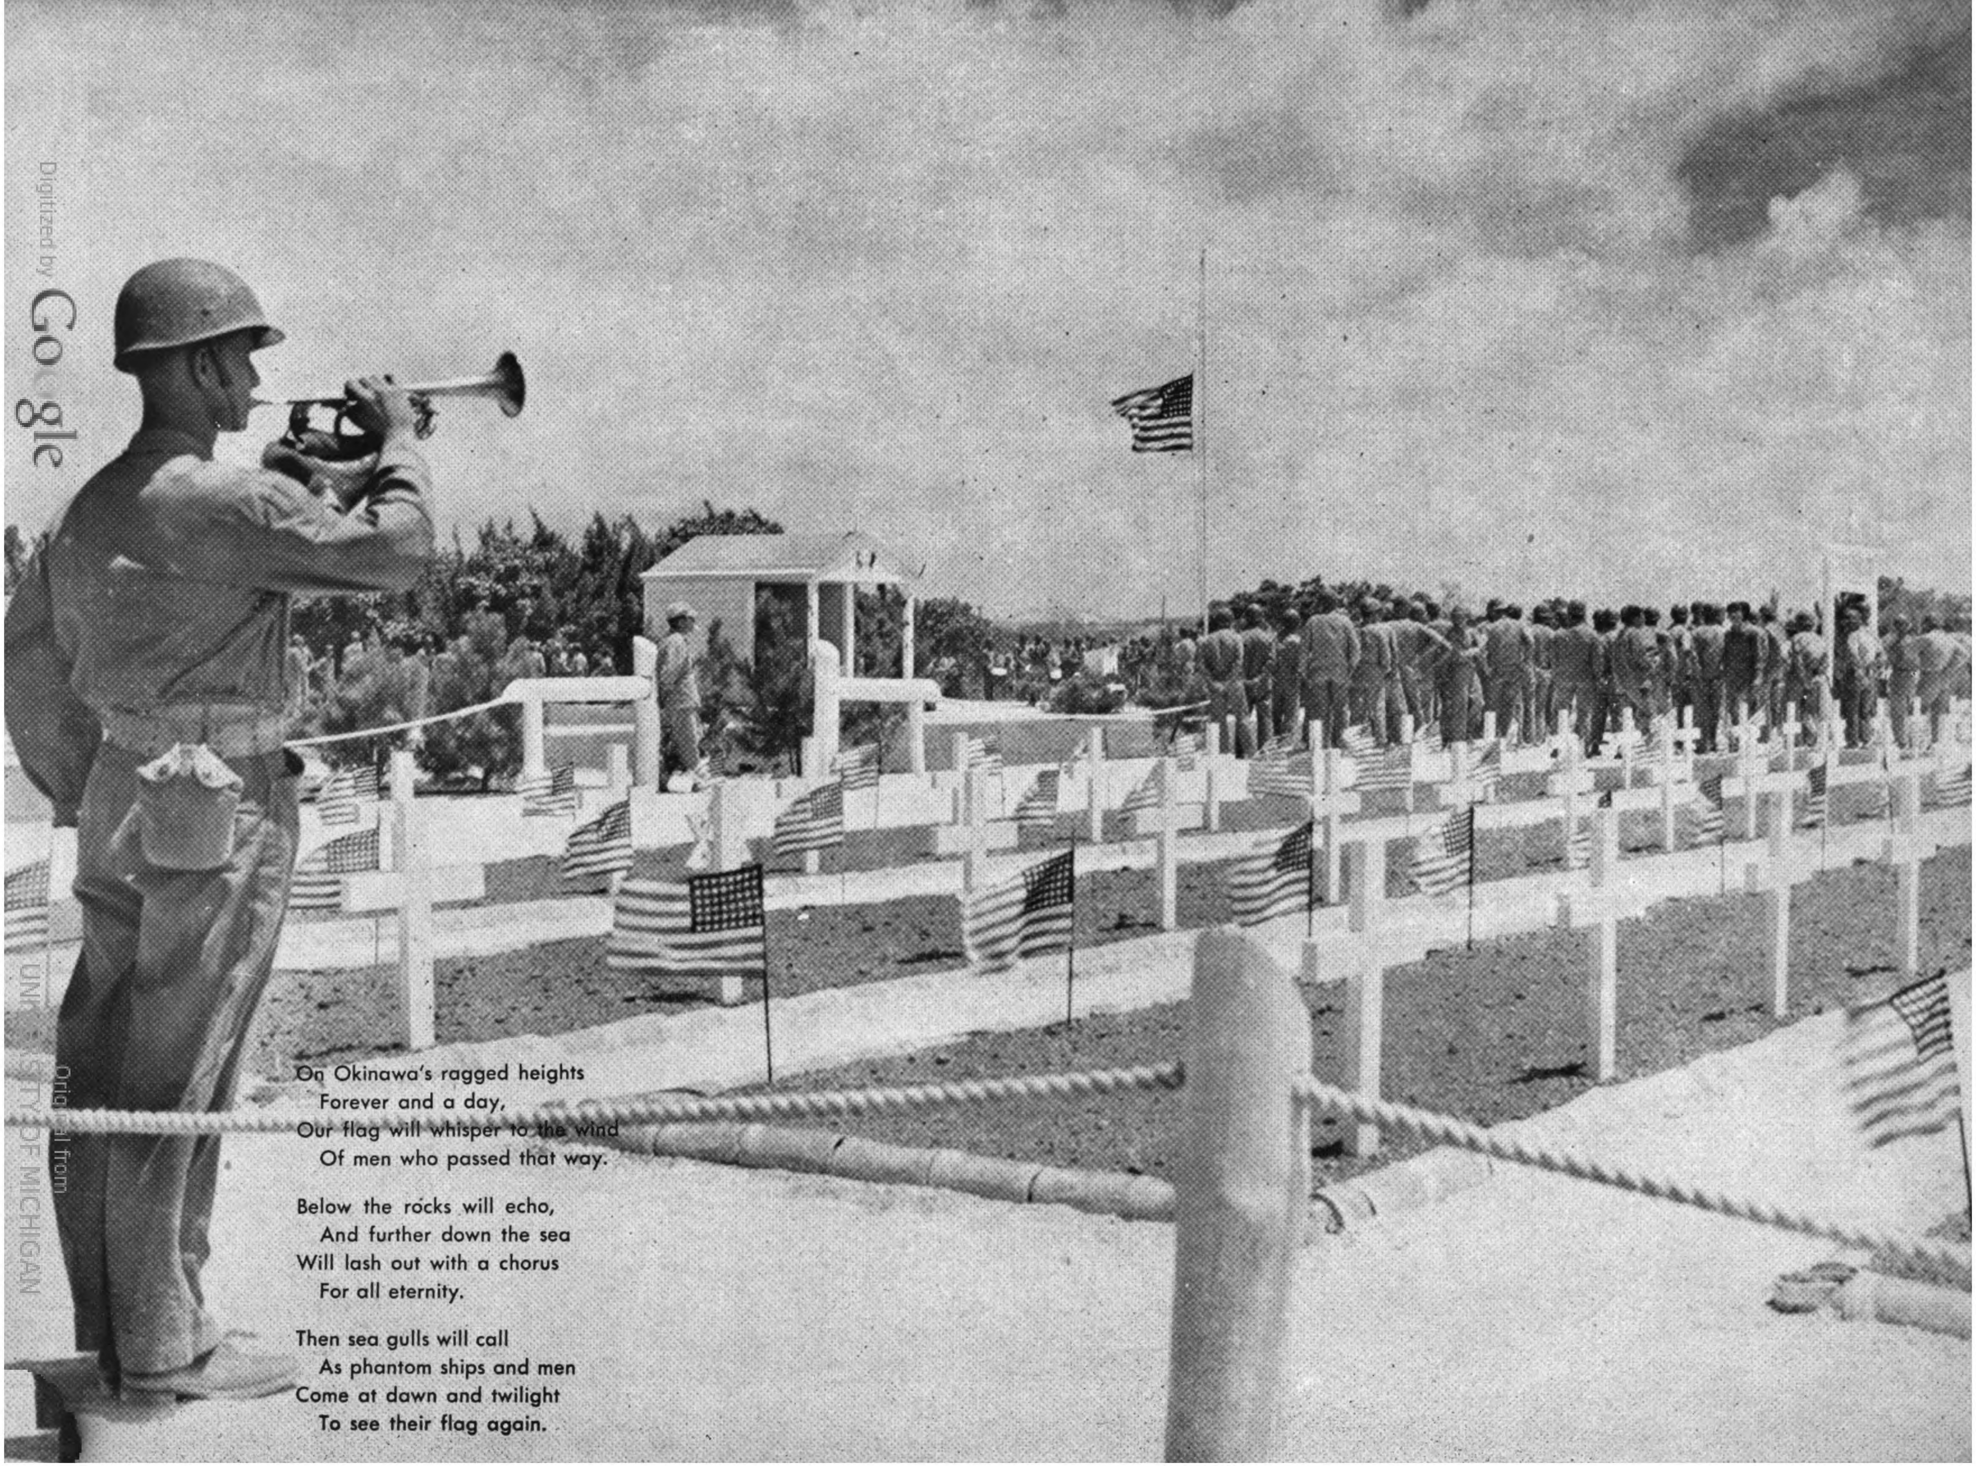






Original from UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN





On Okinawa's ragged heights
  Forever and a day,
Our flag will whisper to the wind
  Of men who passed that way.

Below the rocks will echo,
  And further down the sea
Will lash out with a chorus
  For all eternity.

Then sea gulls will call
  As phantom ships and men
Come at dawn and twilight
  To see their flag again.

THE SERVICE RECORD STAFF

Pictured here are the men responsible for your "SERVICE RECORD". On the left is Editor J. R. Thompson, who wrote the script and planned the format; center is Librarian George Hofmann, who turned cartographer and drew the maps for the book. Below are Photographers H. C. Kulibert on the left and S. J. Korszak on the right who clicked their collective shutters a couple of thousand times for the good of the cause, and whose efforts comprise the major portion of the book. Sketches for the book were made by Battalion Artist Leo J. Nowak.

If a picture is actually worth a thousand words, then the "SERVICE RECORD" was at once a book of a million words. Thus, verbal discussion was held to a minimum. And besides, if we'd written everything that happened, we'd have made liars of a lot of letter writers.

SEABEES

Where the ice is rough, where the palms are wavy
The Seabees work for the U. S. Navy.
Never resting in calm or storm,
Over the planet the Seabees swarm.
Far away from their homeland hives,
From movies, neighbors, and kids and wives.
So they have no queens and they have no drones
And they buzz in very masculine tones.
Craftsmen bees
On risky missions;
Draftsmen bees
And electricians;
Diggers, riggers—gotta be bees
Full of "savvy" in the Seabees.

They are partly gob and they're part marine,
And they're good with a gun or a road machine,
And clever at making a motor mote
And building and landing a landing boat.
In fact, whatever you may require,
Is part of their business—under fire.
They toil and battle by day and night,
For the Seabees' motto is "Work and Fight".
Driller bees
And deisel runners
Killer bees
And tommy-gunners,
Drivers, divers, husky he-bees,
That's the nature of the Seabees.

They work when harried by flies—and planes,
They work when fever is in their veins
To finish anything they've begun
In half of the time it can be done.
They lay out fields and they dig out bases
In the dim, damp distance of lonely places.
Wherever the Seabees go they swing
A working wallop—a fighting sting.
Swimmer bees
Who work in water
Grimmer bees
All set for slaughter.
In the Navy's work they're key-bees,
All around the world—the Seabees!

GEORGIE KOHLER

AND

HIS FUTILE FIFTEEN

Dance to the captivating strings of the "Futile Fifteen" at the Chapeau Brass. Thrill to the torrid trumpet of "Lips" Trovato and the mellow sax of "Reet" Romas, and swoon at the dulcet tones of "Sinatra" Schroeder.

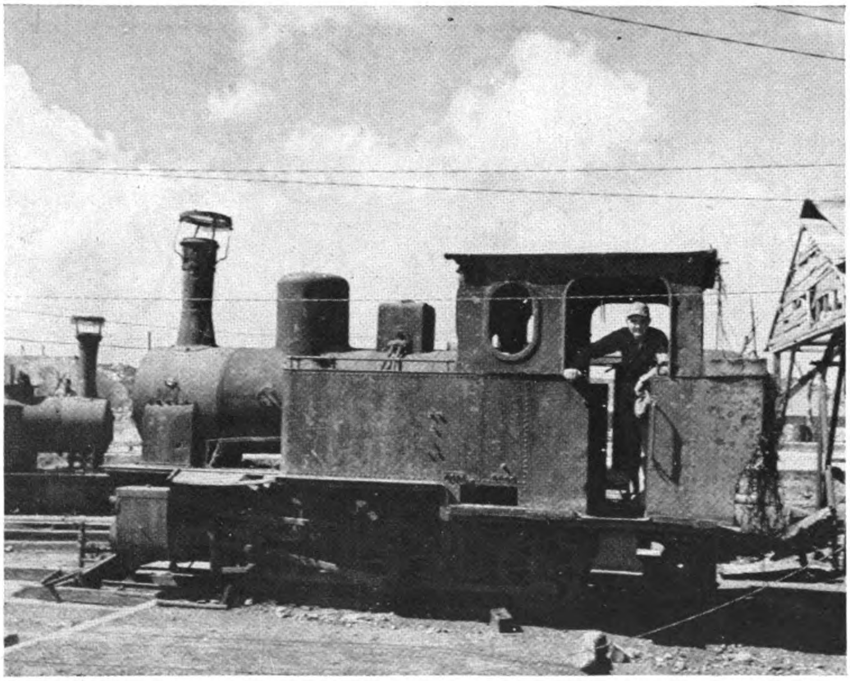
THE NAHA, THE SHURI, AND THE YONABARU

PRESENTS



THE BANZAI BULLET

It is with pardonable pride that The Naha, The Shuri, and The Yonabaru presents something new in the field of transportation. The Banzai Bullet makes rail travel sheer luxury—a new thrill for the jaded commuter.

As you rocket thru beautiful Okinawa in this revolutionary streamliner, you will realize that The Naha, The Shuri, and The Yonabaru has achieved the ultimate in speed and comfort. Okinawa's finest transcontinental railroad is justifiably proud of this accomplishment.

BRASS

"THE MAGIC METAL"

WHY WORK?   WHY WORRY?

USE BRASS

One Satisfied Customer Writes:

"I used to have those dungaree blues. I was a very unhappy swab jockey. My back hurt, my head ached, and my calouses had calouses. To be brief, honest labor was getting me down. Then I tried BRASS!!

BRASS has changed my entire life. Since I started using BRASS, I am getting lots of sack time, wonderful chow, and honest labor is a thing of the past. I owe my success to my BRASS."
